

Lee Greenwood BIO

Lee Greenwood is an ICON in country music, with more than 30 albums to his credit. In fact, MCA released an album in 2013 called ICON.

With seven #1 songs & 25 charted singles his hits include: "It Turns Me Inside Out", "Ring On Her Finger Time on Her Hands", "She's Lyin'", "I don't Mind the Thorns if You're the Rose", "Dixie Road", "Somebody's Gonna Love You", "Going Going Gone", "You Got A Good Love Comin'", "Fools Gold", and "Mornin Ride". Several crossover hits include, "Touch & Go Crazy", "IOU" and the duet with Barbara Mandrell, "To Me". An additional duet with Suzie Boggus, "Hopelessly Yours", was nominated for a Grammy. The CD "American Patriot", recorded & released in 1992, went Platinum in 3 months.

Greenwood's latest CD is: "I Want to be in Your World". He wrote three of the seven songs & plays saxophone on the original track, "Here Comes Love There Goes My Heart". He also covered the Michael McDonald/Kenny Loggins ballad, "You Can Let Go Now." McDonald is featured playing piano on the song.

Lee Greenwood has won numerous industry awards including, Male Vocalist of the year for the Academy of Country Music in 1983, two Male Vocalist of the Year awards from the Country Music Association, 1983 & 1984 and a Grammy for Top Male Vocal Performance in 1985 for "I.O.U.". He also won CMA Song of the Year in 1985 for writing "God Bless the USA." The song, "God Bless the USA" has been voted the most recognizable patriotic song in America. The singer knows first-hand what it's like to have loved ones fighting for the freedom of all Americans as his father served in the Navy & the Merchant Marine in World War II. "USA" is now part of the film for Homeland Security shown when swearing in new citizens to the United States.

"God Bless the USA" went far beyond what Greenwood expected when he wrote it in the back of his tour bus in 1983. The song has been in the top five on the country singles charts three times (1991, 2001 and 2003), giving it the distinction of being the only song in any genre of music to achieve that feat. It was also #1 on the pop charts after 9/11/01.

Greenwood says; "USA is the song I always felt the need to write". "I wanted to have something that would unite Americans from coast to coast. and to instill pride back in the United States. The song represents my family, my community and those men & women who have paid the price for the freedoms we all love & enjoy."

In 2011, Beyonce offered her version of "God Bless the USA" as a download, with the proceeds going to the 9/11 firefighters fund in NYC. It has been performed by contestants on the Fox Network's "American Idol" twice & was the winning song in the 2011 "Dancing with the Stars" competition on ABC. It is performed at all military and patriotic events throughout the year all across America. "USA" has also been in several movies.

Greenwood performs for many charitable events and gives his time & name to numerous organizations and fundraisers. He is the National spokesperson for "Products for Good", the Honor 1 Campaign, and on the advisory board of the "Challenger Commission". The singer is also a member of the National Endowment for the Arts Council, a Presidential appointment.

Music has always been a part of Greenwood's life. He started playing the piano when he was seven and the saxophone at 12. In junior high, he started his first group called the Moonbeams. His sister Patricia was the piano player in the band. By the time, he finished High School he played most all the instruments in the orchestra and was the Drum Major for the marching band.

Greenwood was born in Los Angeles California & finished high school in Sacramento in June 1960. He passed on track & music scholarships to the College of the Pacific along with a professional baseball career to pursue his passion for music. He also elected to skip his high school graduation ceremony to begin work at the Golden Hotel & Casino in Reno Nevada with his own band, the "Apollos". That turned out to be a great choice.

The California native was discovered in 1979 by Larry McFaden, who saw him performing in a show at the Nugget Casino in Sparks, Nevada. Larry was the bass player and bandleader for Mel Tillis. He brought the singer to Nashville and got him signed to the Halsey Agency, who booked the Oak Ridge Boys. He began working with producer Jerry Crutchfield who would record with Lee for the next 20 years.

"Choosing songs to record is always exciting," says Greenwood. "I'm a songwriter as well and I love lyrics that have depth and emotion. I'm thankful for the many writers & artists who have contributed to my career".

Lee and his wife, Kimberly, a former Miss Tennessee, fell in love on his 1989 USO/DOD tour. They were married in Nashville in 1992 and have two sons, Dalton and Parker.

Greenwood has also released a book in 2012, "Does God Still Bless the USA". It features a 30 day calendar, "Prayers of a Patriot" and includes two songs, written by Greenwood, free for download in the back of the book. One is a new version of "God Bless the USA" and the other is a Praise & Worship song, "Show me the Way".
